Truthfulness and Courage

Learning & Activity Packet 8

Dear Educators

Welcome to the Learning & Activity Packet we have prepared to extend the thinking and learning that were explored in our Cozy Corner offering! Cozy Arts believes that learning is something that happens together, and we are excited to learn with you. This resource is appropriate for use with individual students, small groups, or your whole class.

In this packet, we explore the themes of the truthfulness and courage. As you saw in “Writing’s on the Wall” being truthful with one another is part of what builds trust and connection between friends. But being truthful isn’t always easy. Sometimes it takes courage, and a little help from our friends.

Our philosophy of “learning together” is built on the principles of Feelings, Friendship, and Fairness. Growing out of these principles, the activities that we present to you in this packet support the development of crucial social-emotional skills in tangible ways. Understanding that your classroom and school are communities in themselves, our activities provide concrete connections to other people, to the larger community, and are oriented towards justice in ways that children can easily understand. If you want to know more about our learning philosophy, please visit LEARN WITH US.

Each Learning & Activity Packet contains arts-based projects, ideas, conversation prompts, book suggestions, and resources - all thoughtfully crafted and collected to support and extend the learning that began with Rory and our other Cozy Corner friends. There are clear links between these activities and the Massachusetts Primary School Learning Standards - particularly History and Social Sciences Framework Topics such as Kindergarten - Civics: Classroom Citizenship, and Grade 1 - Leadership, Cooperation, Unity and Diversity. We encourage you to make even more connections.

We would like to build a learning community with you and your classroom, so please share your input and suggestions about different activities and conversations you have about the truthfulness and courage! We also invite you to send us photos and stories of you and your class putting this learning into action. Email them to share@cozyarts.org and we will share them on our website!

On behalf of the Cozy Arts community, I want to thank you for joining us on this journey,

COZY WORDS

Cozy Corner is informed by the qualities of kindness, empathy, respect, fairness, equity, and trust. The words we use are important and shape the ways in which we behave in the world around us. Here is a list of words you will hear often in Cozy Corner, and our interpretations of them:

LOVE

as a core quality that inspires positive actions and attributes

FRIENDSHIP

an expression of love for others, an infinite resource

CURIOSITY

fuels learning and helps us expand beyond what we know

GENEROSITY

a quality of the heart that involves being present with, and open to, others

WELCOMING

an action of expanding our nucleus of friendship to include all peoples, both familiar and less familiar to us

COMMUNITY

a group of people working together towards common goals
